All members of the school community have the right to be treated respectfully, and have the responsibility to do so to others.

- We all have rights and responsibilities as citizens within the class and the school.
- There are rules and codes of behaviour for our class and school to keep myself and others safe and happy.
- The choices I make can affect others and myself.

We all have a right to be treated fairly so at Callington Primary School we treat all people fairly.

We all have a right to feel safe from physical and verbal abuse so we are kind to everybody.

We have a right to enjoy school so we co-operate and make sure no-one feels left out, sad, lonely or angry.

We have a right to learn at school so we concentrate on our work and we let the teacher teach.

We all have a right to be heard but we also have a responsibility to listen.

At Callington Primary School children are taught:

- How to solve problems.
- How to get help, if needed, to resolve problems.
- How to decide which problems need help from an adult and those that don't
- The importance of reporting something that is serious, may cause harm or is illegal.

Everyone has the right to feel safe at all times.
Nothing is so awful that you can’t talk to someone about it.

What are our options when things are making us unhappy!
“Have you tried to solve this problem yourself?
